Speed Delivery Of
Eggs by Parachute

Fragile Goods Come Down
Safely In Tests Held at Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Though eggs are high, they are likely to come down with a crash if the plan of the post office department does not work out as it is expected. If it does work out eggs will still be higher for delivery but will come down gently where wanted.

In other words it is planned to deliver eggs by aerial mail and drop them with parachutes to avoid making a landing with the plane. Tests have been made and cartons containing a dozen of eggs have been dropped successfully here without an egg being broken.

Postmaster Merrett O. Chance of Washington took part in one of the recent tests and on examining the eggs found all intact although they had fallen several hundred feet.

PRESS LIKES IRISH PLAN GIVEN BY PREMIER

Lloyd George Suggests Way
For Separate Assemblies
Under Viceroy

By ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Dec. 23.—The London press today generally accepted with enthusiasm Premier Lloyd George's plan for home rule in Ireland, submitted in the house of commons late yesterday.

The premier's scheme for separate parliaments for Ulster and South Ireland was hailed by the morning newspapers as the only logical way to circumvent antipathy between these two sections.

Lloyd George's plan is a "proposal which should commend itself to freedom loving minds everywhere," the Telegraph declared.

It is an "honest endeavor conceived with the single aim of ministering for the good of Ireland while maintaining unity of the empire," in the opinion of the Daily Mail, which characterized the premier's plan as "better than any previous government has submitted."

The premier's plan "should be suitable to all," the Chronicle asserted.

Should Go Forward Boldly
Lloyd George "struck a note which, for a long time he has failed to strike," the Times said, characterizing the premier's statements as "noteworthy of his great office."

"The government should go forward boldly," the Times concluded. Commons was packed with spectators when Lloyd George appeared to explain his heralded Irish plan. Many lords, prominent Irish leaders and diplomats were present. Ambassador Davis of the United States was in the diplomatic section.

Secret service men subjected all persons entering the parliament building to close scrutiny, challenging many to identify themselves. It had been feared an outbreak might occur while the premier was speaking.

There was no demonstration of the consequence, however, while the prime minister spoke, although several members interrupted with cries.

Lloyd George worked up carefully to his subject. He spent half an hour going over the preliminary ground, recapitulating the troubles of Ireland in past centuries and depicting outrages which marked British rule in Erin.

Never More Prosperous
"Ireland never was more prosperous," the premier declared, and a man in the audience yelled "Yes, and Nationalism was never stronger."

Several members drowned the heckler with cries of "hear, hear!" The premier continually referred to the United States for precedent of Britain's policy in Ireland. "Great Britain will not tolerate Irish independence or secession," Lloyd George emphasized, declaring any move to separate Ireland from the empire would be fought with the same spirit.

The recent attack on America manifested when they opposed the South's attempt to secede from the union.

He admitted Ireland "never was so alienated from British rule as at present," but said any severance from the kingdom would be fatal to both.

Only one reference was made to the United States in America manifested when they opposed the South's attempt to secede from the union.

Each of these national assemblies would bear its own expenses.

The premier's speech lasted an hour and a half. Concluding, he said:

"We are putting it up to Ireland. Then, following the fashion set by President Wilson, the premier summed up his arguments in twenty-five 'points.'"

All Irish Papers Attack
Premier's Home Rule Plan

By GEORGE MACDONOUGH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
DUBLIN, Dec. 23.—The Irish press of every shade of opinion today attacked Premier Lloyd George's new home rule plan for Ireland as outlined in the house of commons yesterday, branding it "impracticable" and "unworkable."

Apparently there was not one phase of the premier's scheme that appealed to the Irish newspapers. Morning editions attacked it from every angle, predicting it never would be enforced if tried.

They accused the government of knowing in advance the scheme would not be accepted.

Some newspapers saw in the premier's introduction of the bill of a scheme to mislead world opinion, regarding Ireland.

WAR TALK IN "BLUE BOOK" OF MEXICO REVEALED

Preparations to Repel U. S.
Invasion Ordered By
Pres. Carranza

By SAM I. FREED
(Copyright 1919 by United Press)
AREDO, Tex., Dec. 23.—Warlike moves against the United States by President Carranza in defense of Mexican sovereignty are revealed for the first time in Mexico's "blue book."

This book contains notes exchanged between the United States and Mexico and confidential messages covering the period from Carranza's overthrow of Huerta, through Mexico's neutrality in the world war. It is designed for private circulation among governments, particularly as propaganda in Latin America.

There are warlike pages, particularly in the record of Pershing in Mexico, called in the "blue book" the "Columbus case." Pancho Villa raided Columbus, N. M., March 9, 1916, one of the documents contained in the book reads:

(Document No. 10, telegram):
"Calayuta Guanajuato, March 11.
"General Manuel M. Diezguiz, Empalme, Sonora:

Get Ready for War
"Am trying to prevent break with United States. Fear anything may happen. Place your troops in convenient points to prevent invasion by American troops. You should have everything ready to destroy the line from Nogales south and order the same steps to be taken in Sano and Agua Prieta, if war is declared. Order construction of hand grenades that will help us greatly. Hearty greetings."

(Signed) V. CARRANZA.
A similar message was sent to General Plutarco Calles, at Agua Prieta, Sonora, on that date. To General Agustín Millán, at Jalapa, Vera Cruz, Carranza wired:

"Our relations with United States are at the verge of breaking on account of Columbus incident. I suppose you are all ready. March immediately upon Vera Cruz and take every kind precaution so that in case American marines try to land you can fight them."

El Paso Negotiations
During the negotiations at El Paso between General Hugh Scott and General Alvaro Obregón, following the Columbus raid, Carranza telegraphed Obregón from Chapultepec:

"Make known to General Scott that any American force crossing the boundary line without both governments previously agreeing to a treaty to that effect shall be considered as an invading force, and I will order to be fought."

The stand was repeated in subsequent directions to Obregón. According to the highest authority it is officially the stand of the Carranza government today. But circumstances may alter the case. For example—when the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry crossed into Juarez last July and defeated Villa, who had previously whipped the Carranza garrison.

Carranza telegraphed on May 23 to General Alfredo Ricaut, at Matamoras and General Reynaldo Garza at Nueva Laredo, the following:

"If American forces should come across the border line into our territory through any point of the line under your charge, you shall order your men to fight them immediately."

All of the foregoing communications may be accepted on the highest authority as representing the attitude of the Carranza government today.

55 IN GARDEN GROVE JOIN TELEPHONE COMPANY

Local Mutual Exchange Is Favored If County Plan
Should Fail

WITH fifty-five residents of Garden Grove accepted as members of the Farmers and Merchants Association by the Board of Directors last night, the county organization today has a total membership of sixty-three, the eight directors being the first and original members, each having paid his $10 initiation fee. The association is organized to provide a county-wide mutual telephone system.

The fifty-five names from Garden Grove were presented by H. A. Lake of Garden Grove, who is that district's representative on the board. The members have been secured mostly by voluntary action on their part.

Three hours were devoted one day by a committee in soliciting subscriptions, but it ran up against so many questions that it could not answer intelligently that soliciting was abandoned, and an invitation extended to those who were willing to put up the initiation fee of $10, without being fully informed in advance as to the provisions of the contract.

The sentiment at Garden Grove in favor of a mutual telephone exchange, if the county plan cannot be carried through, is strong, but there is some hesitancy in entering into plans for a temporary exchange, such as has been proposed as means of getting definite action under way.

A meeting of Garden Grove residents will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 5, for further consideration of the project, and it is probable that definite action will be taken.

Test Suit Expected
It is reported that suit is now being prepared to stop the activities of the association and to test the capacity of the organization. It is not known whether the suit is brought from an enemy or friendly source, but the general belief is that it is of the latter nature.

The telephone expert who is co-operating with the association was reported by Lake and Chas. Eysenbrod of Anaheim to have said that experienced telephone lawyers had advised him that the association could not be prevented instituting a mutual system in the county, but that with a long distance connection, it would come under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

A telephone official today said that he was positive that the association could not secure a long distance connection if it desired to. This feature, the possibility of not being able to give long distance service over the mutual system, however, is not giving anyone very great concern, for this service is a secondary consideration as compared with free switching throughout the county, except in business circles, and business men probably would maintain two phones.

One court decision is given on the validity of the organization, and that decision favorable, the directors will get busy and start the work of signing up members all over the county. Until that time little will be done except, possibly, to attempt the installation of an exchange at Garden Grove.

Laclede Folks Gather To Welcome Johnnie Pershing

LACLEDE, Mo., Dec. 23.—Laclede waited early today for "Johnnie" to come marching home. Feted by European crowned heads, honored by congress and acclaimed throughout the land, General John J. Pershing is coming back to his home folks today as plain "Johnnie." Rank and glory will be forgotten and the simple "glad to see you, Johnnie," Laclede will extend today.

Pershing will eat fried chicken, doughnuts, apple pie and cookies with the home town folks.

Decorators last night finished the work of stringing bunting, flags and other decorations from telephone poles, over the signs and across the fronts of village stores.

Before sun up Laclede's three hundred, wearing their Sunday clothes, headed by Mayor Ed Allen, were down at the little red station watching the trains come in. While they stamped about in the snow and cold or gathered about the glowing coal stove inside, they listened to old timers tell about everything Johnnie Pershing did when he was just a boy about town. And Pershing, judging from these historians, was a regular boy.

Bicycles, phaetons, gigs, automobiles and pedestrians cluttered the roads into Laclede before dawn. The stream of vehicles seemed unending. The crowd along the roads was like that coming to the annual county fair except it was bigger and instead of prize squash or apples they carried flags and pictures of Pershing.

Laclede's one puzzle was where to put them. The town's hotel burned last week.

Uncle Al Hall, who used to tell Pershing ghost stories, is the most interested in Pershing's visit.

"I hope he brings me a pint of that St. Louis likker," he said.

MRS. TABOR ADMITS
DAUGHTER DIED AS OPERATION RESULT

PAW PAW, Mich., Dec. 23.—Mrs. Sarah I. Tabor today confessed, county officials here declared, that her daughter, Maud Tabor, died as the result of an illegal operation which she alleged was performed by Maud's husband, Joseph Virgo. Death occurred in May, 1916, the confession said.

Mrs. Tabor admitted her stories about Maud dying of an overdose of chloroform were untrue, officials stated.

Maud Tabor's body was discovered in a trunk in the basement of the Tabor home at Lawton, Mich., three weeks ago. It had been placed in her "hope chest" by her mother and the box concealed in the basement. The body, which had been embalmed, was found by Mrs. Florence Tabor Critchlow, Maud's sister. She immediately notified the authorities.

Virgo was arrested in Chicago. He was an undertaker and had been married six times.

Mrs. Tabor, who is 82 years of age, and her son Walter were arrested in California and returned to Paw Paw. The mother was charged with murder. The aged woman, learned in legal procedure, as her husband had been a lawyer, successfully sparred with the lawyers who attempted to break down her story at the inquest.

BOYHOOD IS BARED AT TRIAL OF H.S. NEW

Lad Impressed With Clouded
Birth By His Mother
Says Deposition

BEGAN LOVE MAKING
WHEN TEN YEARS OLD

Mrs. Burger to Tell Life
Story In Defense of Alleged Slayer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23.—Declaration that she believed Mrs. Lily Burger impressed on the mind of Harry S. New the alleged fact of his illegitimacy in order that he might "bleed" United States Senator New for money, was made in a deposition of Mrs. Eleanor Jane Drummond of Indianapolis today.

The deposition was read at the morning session of Harry New's trial for the alleged murder of Frieda Lesser. Mrs. Drummond said that Harry New had brooded over his unfortunate birth when he was as young as 10 years of age. He blamed Mrs. Burger.

Reading of the depositions was continued after Mrs. Dana Condon testified that New had been at her father's home the night that Mrs. E. L. Sanner claimed to have dined with New at a local cafe.

Mercer B. Seccom of Fairview Park, Indianapolis, said in his deposition that when New was a young man he had a tutor teaching him elementary subjects and that the tutor was suddenly discharged. Other depositions emphasized the following points:

New associated with boys much younger than himself.

Starts Love-Making Early
When he was 10 years old he had a tendency to make love to girls.

He was unable to hold important employment.

He never read or wrote anything although he went to college.

Most of the depositions said New realized the difference between right and wrong but was sub-normal mentally.

The defense sprang the first surprise today soon after court convened when Mrs. Dana Condon was called to the witness stand.

Before another son has set, a woman will have laid her heart, bruised, bleeding and nearly broken, as a sacrifice on the altar of mother-love in a desperate hope of proving her only son a maniac. The mother is Mrs. Lily Burger.

That was the plan determined upon today by the defense of New. Mrs. Burger will step to the witness chair probably this afternoon to tell, it is promised, her life's story.

Story After Depositions
Her recital will begin when the reading of the mass of depositions, started yesterday, is finished, defense attorneys planned.

The depositions read thus far centered chiefly around the characteristics of Harry New as seen by those with whom he had worked. They came from Indianapolis and from Oklahoma City. In the latter place New had been employed by the street department.

One deposition said that New was known by his playmates in boyhood as "Nuttie New" because of his peculiar habits. Another emphasized a statement that he was intensely H. S. in the presence of women whenever he was excited.

That was not normal.

PATHETIC PLEA FARM ADVISORS IN RESOLUTIONS TO 'SANTA' HAVE PROVEN BIG VALUE COMMEND MISS KATE OWENS

A letter addressed, "Santa Claus, Santa Ana, Cal.," found its way, via Postmaster C. D. Overhiser, to Santa Ana Lodge, No. 794, B. P. O. E., and today there are three little tots, somewhere in Orange county, whose hearts are leaping with gladness as the result of a visit paid to the home of the family by one of the lodge members, who brought with him two sweaters and "a toy for the baby."

The letter was written by a 10-year-old girl and read in part as follows:

"I have a little sister 8 years old and a baby brother 2 years old. We would like so much for you to come to our house Xmas. You didn't come last year, but I know you didn't know where we lived. Mama says you won't come this year, but I think you will if you know where we live."

After giving "Santa" directions as to where the little girl lives, the letter continued:

"It is too far for you to come you could send us something by mail. I would like a sweater and sister would too. And baby wants a toy. I guess. But, dear Santa, if you don't have any sweaters just bring us anything and we will be so glad. Good bye dear old Santa."

Preparations were completed today at Elks' hall for the Christmas tree entertainment the local Elks lodge will give tomorrow afternoon for the children of Santa Ana. Beginning at 1:30 in the afternoon children will be admitted to the hall. Each child will receive a present of a toy and a box of candy. There will be a Punch and Judy show, and Santa Claus, in the person of Sam Burke, will be present.

The farm advisor system has come good in California. It has come to stay. Farm advisors have proven of great value to farming interests.

Statements to that effect were made at a luncheon given at James' today for B. H. Crockeron of the University of California, state leader of farm advisors, who is here today visiting directors and the advisor of the Orange County Farm Center.

Members of the Board of Supervisors were present at the luncheon and heard the address that followed.

"Farm advisors all over the state are notoriously underpaid," said Crockeron. "In the last year fifty per cent of them have resigned because they were not getting living wages. Payment of farm advisors is our big problem. Your own farm advisor can quit any day and get better pay, but he is staying with you because he likes the work, he believes in its future and hopes that some day it will pay a living salary. All we can do at this time is to go from county to county and seek full co-operation from boards of supervisors. Hitherto, the university has paid the salaries of farm advisors. In order to secure the greatest efficiency from the system we must provide better salaries. Even the man who drives a milk wagon for the state at one place and works but eight hours a day gets better pay than some of our farm advisors."

This afternoon Crockeron is conferring with the directors of the Farm Bureau.

ITALY UP AGAINST HEAVY WAR TAXES

Truly portentous is the balance sheet just struck by Italy's minister of finance. The capital represented by the public debt amounts to $25,000,000,000, as against about $2,700,000,000 in 1913. This is an increase of nearly tenfold. The interest on the consolidated funds has increased from $70,440,000 to over $1,000,000,000, a fourteen-fold increase. Evidently measures of the most drastic sort will be required to prevent bankruptcy, and a heavy tax on war fortunes is to be followed by a capital tax spread over a number of years.

Italy is not a rich country, lacking coal and iron and therefore at an industrial disadvantage, but before the war, at any rate before the Tripoli adventure in 1912, its public finance was notably sane and sound. How it can stand public debt which five years ago would have seemed staggering to the richest country in Europe is hard to see, and its enemies have been too thoroughly pulverized to yield much tribute. Before the war it was generally believed that financial exhaustion would make a long war impossible; governments kept going longer than had been expected, but the bill which the people have to foot is all the greater.

SOCIALISM IS RAPPED BY GOVERNOR LOWDEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, in an address here last night attacked Socialism and communism. The fulfury of these doctrines, he declared, was amply proved by results of the attempt of the Pilgrim fathers to found a Socialist community, although conditions at Plymouth Rock favored a communist state.

JORDAN WON'T QUIT EXCLUSION LEAGUERS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 23.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan in a letter to State Senator J. A. Inman, head of the California Oriental Exclusion League, declined to resign from the general committee of that organization.

First Well Brought In on Property of Placentia Resident

Yesterday what appears to be a 500 barrel well was brought in by the Petroleum Development Co., on A. S. Bradford's ranch east of Placentia, near the big Chapman well. This is the first well brought in on Bradford's property.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Redlands—

Section on Current Events gave the program at the Contemporary Club on Monday. The topics for the afternoon were divided into four classes, foreign, domestic, political and scientific, with four leaders; Mrs. Y. M. Elythe spoke of America's relations to various powers; Mrs. C. A. Sanborn read a clever article on the "Help Problem"; Mrs. J. J. Stuess discussed presidential possibilities and Mrs. Geo. Robertson told of some new inventions and scientific discoveries that should in the future help in our living problems.

The regular meeting of the Arrowhead chapter, D. A. R., was held Friday.

"The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Concha Romero, who talked on the Latin-American women as an asset to America. This topic was particularly interesting as Americanization, is this year engaging the attention of the national order of Daughters of the American Revolution.

Professor W. F. Boyce of the Fullerton Junior College, gave an address on "Americanization" before the members of the Placencia Round Table Club at their last meeting. Mrs. Willoughby Rodman of Los Angeles, made an earnest appeal for help for Serbia's starving children.

San Diego—

The San Diego Club house was crowded Tuesday by the members and guests of the club to see the wonderful display of hand-made lace, old Spanish lace, pine needle, reed, and rafa baskets, trays and many beautiful crocheted articles that were made by the arts and crafts department of which Mrs. J. H. Francis is chairman.

The paper for the afternoon was given by Mrs. Baxter, recently of New York, but who now has a studio in Balboa Park. She spoke of "Occupational Therapy."

Brawley—

Mr. Heald spoke of the "Home Teacher Law."

Los Angeles—

At the Ebell Club last week H. Sheridan Bickers, Irish author and publicist spoke on "American Interests in Russia." He affirmed that America cannot afford to have nothing to do with Russia's problems, because German influence is growing and the Japanese Militarist party, which hates America, and which largely controls Eastern Siberia, is in the ascendancy. The promises of the Bolshevik are many.

AMERICAN CARS EVERYWHERE IN EUROPE

American motor cars are apparently playing a very important part in the exciting affairs of Middle Europe, in the opinion of Otto Haan, of the Cadillac Garage Company. He is basing his deductions on a letter written by John H. Clayton, formerly a lieutenant in the aviation service in France, and now a newspaper correspondent in Paris. Quotations from the letter follow:

"Well, I guess the Cadillac is in Europe to stay. It seems that no matter where I go I encounter Cadillac Eight, and almost invariably they have just completed some thrilling run or just starting on one."

"In company with Lieut. Pottle of the A. R. A., I recently participated in some little run myself. We toured from Trieste to Vienna over the Julian Alps by way of Klagenfurt, making the trip, which requires thirty-two hours by train, in exactly ten hours. It was over a wonderful road with magnificent scenery."

"As you probably know by following the daily press, Budapest is some exciting place right now. When Bela Kun made his hasty getaway from Budapest to Bruck, the old boy found that the safest and surest way of losing no time was to use a Cadillac. Last night Garoni, a Socialist leader here, found it to his best interests to leave hurriedly. His destination was Vienna, and he like me used a Cadillac. It is a good thing for some of these people that there is always a Cadillac nearby."

"Every time I see a Cadillac it is like seeing someone from home."

"Very interesting and somewhat exciting work is being done by American officers in Montenegro and along the Dalmatian coast. Some of this country is infested with bandits and traveling is unsafe to say the least. These Cadillacs are permitted to go back and forth unmolested, as the bandits know they carry chocolate, milk and sugar for starving children of the backwoods."

Sierra Madre—

Ancient modern dramatists was the subject at last week's meeting of the drama section of the woman's club. "The Trail of the Torch" was reviewed and scenes from Rostand's most important plays were given.

Whittier—

Americanization was the subject of an address by Dr. J. A. Francis of the Temple Baptist church of Los Angeles on Tuesday before the Woman's Club.

Long Beach—

A charming informal affair was the reception given by the Mills College Club of Southern California, in honor of the Mills college president, Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, attending speaker for the Ebell Club and the teachers' institute.

Civic center is again being discussed by the Woman's City Club of Long Beach.

WORK STARTED BY L. A. HARBOR COTTON PRESS

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Dec. 23.—Work has been started on the first order of 3,000 bales of cotton to be put through the new cotton compress erected by the City of Los Angeles here.

The compress marks the first step of Los Angeles and San Pedro to become the main shipping point for the cotton output of the Palo Verde and Imperial valleys and for Arizona.

The harbor commission has arranged warehouse facilities for handling the cotton.

The first shipments from here will go by water to Oakland.

The compress now in operation has a capacity of from 750 to 1,000 bales every eight hours, using men each eight hour shift.

"You are charged with permitting your horse to stand unattended for over an hour," said the magistrate. "Well, I defy anybody to teach the brute to lie down," protested the prisoner, before he was dragged away.

EVERYBODY SATISFIED

Economy was the war cry of the Smithkins house—but they meant to have their little comforts all the same.

"Maria, look at this," said Joshua one day. "I have bought a bottle of cheap claret to try. If it is all right we can have it in future."

"How nice!" gushed Maria. "And this morning I have made a pint of furniture polish over so cheap from a recipe in the newspaper."

"How was I to know," yelled old Joshua frantically, "that you'd put your beastly polish in an old wine bottle?"

"And how was I to know that I was cleaning the furniture with your old claret?" retorted Maria. "Anyhow it answered very well, and you have drank the furniture polish, and said it was quite good wine, considering the price!"

Beauty is more than skin deep, according to the United States Public Health Service. Natural beauty is usually a sign of health that comes from keeping the body clean and getting plenty of out-door exercise.

JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME

LONDON, Dec. 16.—These be weird and wonderful days and you never know whether the man in the store it there to sell you socks or save your soul.

Our parsons are giving up the church as a livelihood and taking up positions as salesmen. Their anxiety for our spiritual welfare hovers in the background as a "hobby."

One is really nervous these days to walk up and ask for a pair of silk stockings. Maybe that nice-looking young assistant behind the counter will preach you a short sermon on the stockings' unrighteousness and send you away clutching a parcel of home-knitted woolens that you'll never wear, or making vows of eternal homespun which you'll never keep.

Its very difficult. Of course, its not that we don't like parsons—we just don't like them in the pulpit but the people don't pay enough to keep them there. And it is harrowing to think that some of those curates who tell you such soulful things every Sunday should not have the wherewithal to keep the home fires burning.

There is a serious outbreak of trousseitis among women.

The men blame this on the fact that somebody once said "trousers were daring, and now women find them an ever recurring temptation. Certain it is that whatever women are permitted to do the basic bifurcations you seek in vain for a skirt. At all the recent fancy-dress balls, in the newest reviews and in the latest frocks women go trousseed, therefore happy.

At the victory ball girls were dressed in Eastern costume as pierrots, little boys, or strange futuristic things of which you couldn't recognize the character but noticed it was bitten by the trousseetist.

Poor Company.

The evening party was over, and most of the guests had gone. As one young man took leave of his hostess, the lady said:

"I'm sorry you found Miss Biggle a poor conversationalist."

"Poor conversationalist!" exclaimed the guest. "She's absolutely the limit! Why, the only thing she said to me the entire evening was 'No, I had to propose to her to get that out of her!'"

I recently drove from Antivari to Vir Pazar and Cattaro in one of these.

"This country is still in a mighty unsettled condition, and there are little signs of it settling down. I am having some wonderful experiences, but sometimes I would much prefer to be touring down to Del Monte or Santa Barbara in one of your touring cars. This is a great life, but you must not weaken."

From across every sea and land have come thousands of grateful letters to the Horlick offices, paying tribute to Horlick's Malted Milk. Mothers of contented babies, soldiers after a campaign, mothers back from the ice fields, high tension business and professional workers, invalids and the aged—all tell of the different needs that Horlick's has filled.

Horlick's has proved itself to be the ideal food for every age of Shakespeare's Seven. It is so complete in itself as to contain every element of nutrition necessary to sustain life—even of the most robust—and yet it is readily digestible by the delicate stomach of the infant and the invalid.

3d Age. "Then the soldier seeking reputation at the cannon's mouth"

"Clara Barton of the Red Cross in her stories of the Spanish-American War tells how Colonel Roosevelt asked the Red Cross to sell him some supplies for some sick men in his regiment, but she declined. 'We can't sell them, but you can have them for asking.' 'Oh, then I do ask for them.' 'All right, what is your list?' The list was Horlick's Malted Milk, etc. Colonel Roosevelt slung the heavy sack over his shoulder, and trudged off through the jungle."

4th Age. "And then the lover with his ballad"

"Horlick's growth as a fountain favorite has been marvelous. A constant stream of young couples in the afternoon and evening call for Horlick's Malted Milk, chocolate or plain. 'Horlick's is a favorite lunch hour drink around universities with the students. A glass making a meal, they find it very economical and healthful."

5th Age. "And then the justice full of wise saws"

"When I read an invigorator as the result of my work I drink a cup of Horlick's. I have used it constantly for several years, and find it cannot be beat for weak stomach, as a diet. In fact, it is all that is claimed for it."

6th Age. "The sixth age with spectacles on nose"

"I am 50 years old, and consider it a fortunate day when a friend induced me to try a cup of Horlick's Malted Milk. I use it with benefit and pleasure two or three times a day. It is delicious and has done me a world of good."

7th Age. "Last scene of all that ends this eventful history"

"I could not do without it. It surely is a sleep producer and I am a nervous person, but Horlick's Malted Milk has helped me greatly. I have learned by experience that Horlick's is as excellent for well people as for invalids."

SCHOOLS GOING TO UNDERTAKE EXPERIMENT

California schools are going to try an experiment in text books. The state board of education has now selected some of the books it intends to have used in the immediate future. These histories and arithmetic are to be printed by the state.

According to the report of the board 450,000 copies are required. If the state plant does all the printing and electrotyping the job will cost about $250,000 and will save the state $100,000. This sounds like a worthwhile saving, and turns attention to other possible improvements in the school book situation.

During the war the text book problem was almost forgotten, excepting where enemy propaganda was discovered and thrown out. With the close of the war has come a genuine need for new histories and geographies which will have to be met by school boards, teachers and parents. There is no need, however, of returning to the old method of care and partiality in choice of these books.

It has been true in too many of our school systems that every incoming superintendent or principal meant throwing out a whole lot of perfectly useful grammars or arithmetics or readers or music books and the installation of others only slightly different and rarely as better than the old. Families with several children following each other through the public schools have found each new child requiring an entirely new set of books. The expense has been heavy, and the gains have not always justified the additional expense.

Parents as a rule have taken very little interest in anything but the price of these books. It would be well if they looked within the covers and gave a little serious thought to the contents. Their interest would be greatly appreciated by the teachers and would undoubtedly have a steady and improving influence on the choice of books—Stockton Independent.

In these interesting extracts from letters to us the story is told:

1st Age. "First the infant in the nurse's arms"

"Words fail to express how grateful I am to Horlick's Malted Milk. My babe was given up; it was said she would not live through the night. But the next morning it was alive, and while we anxiously watched it, a neighbor persuaded us to try 'Horlick's.' It was like putting oil on the wick of a dying lamp; she improved rapidly, and is now the joy of the house."

2d Age. "Then the school boy with his shining morning face"

"I raised five children on 'Horlick's,' and they all love it still. It can't be beat as a nutritious lunch between meals for a growing boy or girl."

3d Age. "Then the soldier seeking reputation at the cannon's mouth"

"Clara Barton of the Red Cross in her stories of the Spanish-American War tells how Colonel Roosevelt asked the Red Cross to sell him some supplies for some sick men in his regiment, but she declined. 'We can't sell them, but you can have them for asking.' 'Oh, then I do ask for them.' 'All right, what is your list?' ## A SEASON OF SMILES

It's inspiring these days to be on the streets and bask in the smiles of the Christmas shoppers. Everybody is beaming with kindness and reflecting the spirit of the season—peace and good will to all. Strangers smile as they pass laden with gifts for loved ones and the older folks while apologetically explaining they are shopping for the children, prove better than words can convey that the joy of Yuletide never grows dim in the human heart, and that the best that is in us comes to the surface and reigns supreme at this season of the year.

Shopping in Santa Ana started earlier this year than usual and more spontaneously. The business houses have all had record sales since the opening of the season and the volume of business that will be done this year by the merchants promises to exceed by far the best holiday trade of by-gone years. Christmas tree sales for private homes were never so large. Kindly agencies are on the job in search of all families where distress may dwell, determined to make every heart happy on the greatest of all great days.

HE TOLD THE MARINES

There doesn't seem to be any standardization of punishment or reward for the modern rivals of Baron Munchausen. Witness the dishonorable discharge of a captain of the United States Marine Corps, on the charge that he deliberately made up his story of doughty battle with a dozen German airplanes.

It was a perfectly good story of a perfectly sanguinary battle. The captain, in a borrowed British plane, engaged, or said he engaged, twelve enemy planes in combat over the British front, destroyed five and damaged two others, and sweeping earthward with his own plane damaged, scattered a detachment of enemy soldiers. The captain added that, after landing, he foisted three German soldiers whom he encountered into believing his compass was a bomb, forced two of them to flee and captured the other. Then, still keeping his captive, he says he found a wounded French officer and carried him back to safety within the British lines, crossing a stream under heavy fire by the Germans.

Now anybody will admit that no better yarn came out of the war than that, not even George Creel's Fourth of July American fleet victory over the German submarines. The artistry of the marine's tale far outdoes that of the official story of the fleet's victory, but the self-claimed hero is a candidate for condole for his exhibition of trust in a popular axiom: "Tell that to the marines."

He did—they didn't believe him!

HAIL, D'ANNUNZIO!

D'Annunzio seems to have "put it over" at Fiume thereby proving once more how highly Italy regards artistic genius. Any other man might have failed in such a hare-brained exploit. Any other country would almost certainly have arrested the arrogant meddler and shot or imprisoned him for mutiny. But D'Annunzio, having successfully defied the Italian government and complicated past redemption the international settlement of the Fiume affair, is allowed to have his way. According to a recent dispatch from Rome, regular troops are to enter Fiume and take over the city on behalf of the Italian government, relieving Poet-Aviator-General and his followers, and agreeing that Fiume is to go to Italy.

"Ours is the glory!" sings D'Annunzio. His mutinous troops are to return to their old posts "and be received as heroes, with the retention of all their honors and rank," and very likely with new honors and rank added.

Such is Italy, the emotional, with its grand-opera idea of war, government and diplomacy, and its inability to resist anything, good or bad, that is done with a grand flourish. D'Annunzio's rebellion was Art.

The artist is not through, either. Having won this triumph, he finds no attraction in "the beautiful, quiet grave" he had picked out to be buried in, just outside of Fiume. He will fare forth on his Pegasus to new adventures. He will conquer new worlds. Or at least, he will conquer the same old world in a new way. He has it all figured out.

As soon as the Fiume episode is concluded, D'Annunzio will proceed to fly around the earth in his trusty airplane. He expects to start before the winter is over, flying east, across Asia to Tokio, and thence across the broad Pacific and the United States of America, and so home again.

Americans will be glad to see him, even if he scatters his own poems broadcast from the sky as he did in war-time, over Vienna. Let him crank up Pegasus and hop off.

PROFIT 250 PERCENT

In the midst of other important matters recently it became necessary to investigate the high cost of the chicken sandwich so dear to the palates of congressmen, clerks and other government employees who patronize the House Office Restaurant in Washington, D. C.

Representative King of Illinois, feeling that profiteering was being carried a little too far in the matter of chicken sandwiches, purchased a sample at the usual price of 35 cents. He did not eat it, but hastened to a drug store and had it analyzed, its various component parts duly weighed and their value appraised at current market prices. The tabulated statistics are as follows:

Cost: Chicken—5 drams 30 grains apothecaries', or 12,336 drams avoirdupois, at 45 cents per pound—2.16 cents.
Lettuce—5 drams 20 grains apothecaries', or 11,968 drams avoirdupois, at 6 cents per pound, .28 cents.
Butter—1 dram 40 grains apothecaries', or 3,728 drams avoirdupois, at 70 cents per pound, 1.01 cents.
Bread—1 ounce 5 drams 50 grains apothecaries', or 1 ounce 15.04 drams avoirdupois, at 7 cents for 12-ounce loaf—1.13 cents.
Total cost materials—4.58 cents. Adding 100 per cent for handling makes a total net cost of serving of 9.16 cents. Subtracting that sum from the selling price of 35 cents, one arrives at the profit, 25.84 cents, or considerably more than 250 per cent profit.

And now, the point that interests the long-suffering public is—what did Congress do about it?

One of the most entertaining contributions to recent prohibition literature is the explanation of a Gary, Ind., man as to how he happened to have 300 gallons of raisin wine in his possession. He told the court he needed it to bathe his sick child in.

British courts have decided that England has no legal right to hold the German U-boat commander who sank the hospital ship Glenart Castle. That commander had no right to sink the hospital ship, either—but he did it.

Sic 'em Without Mercy

Stockton Record
The Fresno Republican, good converted "dry" that it is, fails to conceal a certain selfish, gleeful satisfaction in the fact that the east seems to be drinking raisins, according to the advertising manager of the Associated Raisin company. No other explanation, it says, can be offered for the unprecedented demand for raisins, particularly for the rather inferior dried wine grapes.

Pleasantly and with a grin the esteemed Republican skims lightly over the thin ice and finally reaches the comforting conclusion that if folks buy them the syrup "spolis" Fresno is not to blame if it is very profitable for that section and if the grapes fermented that way don't do as much harm as they used to do. But how does the Republican editor know that?

Our judgment is, that for his thinly veiled hypocrisy, the Fresno editor should be turned over to the Sacramento Bee to do its worst without mercy.

Paraphrased

From the Stockton Record
It really looks as if things were going to be hard for the poor devil of a profiteer. In New York $2 Christmas trees were forced down to six for 35 cents, and were even given away to get rid of them. There were too many rushing in with $2 trees, expecting to reap a harvest, and the bottom dropped out.

Army men of the world war are objecting to the word "soldiering" as a synonym for "loafing." They say there was nothing like that in this man's army and they don't like it. The point is well taken and the American Legion will attend to the next person who uses it.

"Stop buying" is the slogan of the Illinois women. It will become effective in Santa Ana tomorrow night when the last door of the last store is closed and will remain in effect for fully 36 hours.

There is no prophet so poor that he now wants to shoulder the prediction that the world would wind up affairs last Wednesday. The original trouble starter vows what he really said was grossly exaggerated. Any one will admit that.

After all, "housing" is a relative term. The Eskimo is said to be more comfortable and free from disease in his sanitary snow but renewed every two or three weeks than he could possibly be in one made of concrete or wood.

Nobody seems to have thought about objecting to Christmas trees and a Santa Claus because they came from Germany.

In 1701 the population of China was what that of the United States is today.

Those Were the Days

Where Lies Our Duty

The opponents of the League of Nations have emphasized their Americanism at all stages of the controversy and have endeavored to show that America should not reach out into any other country, on any pretext. Those who have taken a broader view have contended that while they see their duty as Americans clearly, they also see some responsibility for helping the world, especially when humanity makes such demands as she is now making.

The point is well brought out in a statement made the other day by Dr. Gates, president of Robert College, the famous American school at Constantinople. Dr. Gates said that America's decisions regarding her participation in the administration of reforms there can force peace and prosperity or loose chaos. He stated that the future of the eight American educational institutions in Turkey depends on the terms of the Treaty of Peace with the Turks.

Continuing he said: "If America refuses to take any part in that treaty and holds aloof from all responsibility for governing the people in Turkey conditions in that land will certainly become much worse. Both Turks and Christians earnestly desire the participation of America in the administration of reforms there. That desire is now a restraining influence while they are waiting to see what America will do."

"Our country could take over this task with a smaller force and less expenditure and with greater prospects for success in settling racial problems than any other power. But if all hope of America's participation is cut off the Turks will believe themselves handed over to the European Powers, to be treated on the old principles and exploited in the old way; and this will certainly result in disorders in which the Christians of Turkey will be the chief sufferers. We shall not escape blame for the catastrophes which will ensue. The world will say 'America might have prevented this suffering and she would not.'"

"If on the other hand America decides to take over the task offered to her in the Near East, we shall have the satisfaction of saving the Armenians from extermination. We shall be able to develop the resources of a country rich in agricultural and mineral wealth, to bestow liberty upon peoples who never have known it, and to establish a new record and a new example in the dealings of nation with nation."

EACH AND ALL.
Nor knowest thou what argument
Thy life to thy neighbor's creed has lent:
All are needed by each one.
Nothing is fair or good alone.

The delicate shells lay on the shore;
The bubbles of the latest wave
Fresh pearls to their enamel gave;
And the bellowing of the savage sea
Greeted their safe escape to me:
I wiped away the weeds and foam,
And fished my seaborne treasures home;
But the poor, unsightly, noisome things
Had left their beauty on the shore
With the sun, and the sand, and the wild uproar.

For Good Measure

By the Editor

Not satisfied with showing cartoons and news features and travelogues, the movies are now running a "columbus" of paragraphs or funny-graphs. And they are funny, too, and epigrammatic, as, for instance, at the West End Theater, quoting from memory:

"The most dangerous neighborhood for a woman is in the neighborhood of 250 pounds."

"Women are all in favor of divorce—it puts husbands in circulation."

Among the news pictures thrown on the screen at the same theater were portraits of the outstanding figures in the League of Nations controversy—Senators Lodge, Borah and Sherman and President Wilson. The senators came first, without a ripple of applause. Then came the President and there was hearty hand-clapping. The question is—was the applause for the President or the League of Nations?

C. B. Berger of Anaheim, the big real estate man—big in person, character and operations—was talking about newspapers.

"I don't know," he said. "That I owe the Register any bouquets. I pay it $40 to $50 a month for advertising, and I don't know of anything it does for me, personally, except what I pay for. But I'll tell the world that the Register is the best newspaper I ever saw or heard of in a town the size of Santa Ana. I subscribe for two Los Angeles papers and several Orange county papers. But when I get home at night and put on my slippers, I read the Register first. If I don't get too sleepy, I may read one or more of the others. But the Register is indispensable."

Speaking of good papers, listen, good people—all of you. The Register isn't going to be so good—at least not so large—very much longer unless we get some print paper. We had notice from the paper mills to-day that our contract for paper could not be filled during the next three months—that is, that it would be a physical impossibility to supply us with our monthly quota. That means that the Register, in common with all the other newspapers in the country, must conserve its meager supply of news print by cutting down the size of its daily issues.

The Register has tried to be forehanded. It carries a reserve stock amounting to a three months' supply. It now has on hand a two months' supply, with two additional cars now over-due. But when it will get those two cars, and when the mills will accept any further orders, the Lord only knows. So, immediately after Christmas, the Register is going into the business of intensive condensation and curtailment in the use of print paper.

Already the Los Angeles, Long Beach and Pasadena papers have been put on starvation rations—they are running in reduced size to the extent of 25 per cent to 50 per cent, and as a matter of fairness as well as of compulsion, the Register must do likewise.

Complaint is heard from many people—especially those who have recently come to Santa Ana to live—about the carelessness in numbering our business houses—residences, too, for that matter. But especially the stores. Many of them carry no street numbers at all and others have the numbers so obscurely placed as to render them practically worthless.

Of course, all stores have a theoretical number, and most of our merchants carry the numbers of their places of business in their advertisements. But just go up and down the streets and try to locate places of business by the numbers found in telephone and city directories and in newspaper advertisements. It can't be done.

Joe: The Register building is not numbered. "First take the beam out of thine own eye. Come into court with clean hands"—etc.

Leipsics Store this season will depart from the usual custom that has been established in Santa Ana by the business men—the custom of remaining open evenings before Christmas, as it works a hardship on the salesladies.

This year Leipsics will be open for business on Wednesday night only, Christmas eve, for the benefit of the friends who have forgotten some gift thing until the last moment. But out of consideration for the salespeople, the store will be open on NO OTHER EVENING.

The management is anxious to have the store service as efficient as possible. It wants every customer to have the most careful attention of the salespeople. The management wants the clerks at Leipsics to be fresh and alert mentally in order that the customers may be given perfect service, and this would not be possible if the salespeople worked into the night instead of getting their usual rest and recreation.

With this in mind, it is requested of the good people who like to trade at Leipsics that they do their shopping as far as possible during the usual shopping hours. They will find the clerks responsive and accommodating and it will be a merrier Christmas both for the customer and for the salespeople. We are confident that our customers and friends will co-operate with us in this modern plan.

SKIDDING AUTO JEOPARDIZES 8 LIVES

Here from the North to attend the funeral yesterday afternoon of their father, J. B. Miller, who met such a tragic death Saturday, when he threw himself in front of an electric car, the lives of two daughters and two sons of Miller this morning were in jeopardy when an automobile in which they were riding skidded on the wet pavement south of Tustin and went into the ditch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stanley and three children, John B. Miller of Wineville, George B. Miller of Oakland and Mrs. Wm. Couture of San Francisco were driving to Laguna in Stanley's car. Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Couture are daughters of the man who sought death under the car wheels. The machine skidded on the slippery pavement about half way between Tustin and the Culver corner, and went into the ditch, the car being prevented from turning over by striking against the bank of the ditch. Mrs. Couture was thrown out of the machine, but sustained no injury beyond a bruise over one of her eyes. None of the other occupants of the machine was hurt.

The rear right wheel of the car was broken, and other slight damage was done to the machine. Passing motorists brought the family back to Santa Ana.

CHRISTMAS IN SANTA ANA

Twine again the Christmas holly, deck the old-time Christmas tree, fling away life's gloom and sorrow, let the town be filled with glee, sing the grand old Christmas music, while the voice of organ wakes to the sound of many voices, till the roof with gladness shakes.
Shame the grudge and gloomy spirit with the deeds that cheer and heal, let the out-cast and the needy Christmas joy and pleasure feel, let the gifts of love and kindness scattered be to friend and foe, and with each and every token, let the Christmas spirit go.
It is well this olden custom, keeping fresh through all the earth, all the old time wondrous story, angel song and magic birth.
Yet no dawnlight bursts in splendor but it is a Christmas morn, when in every home and hovel, lo, a new glad hope is born. Every silent midnight vigil by an angel wing is stirred, never a lone watch of duty but an angel song is heard.
Put away the bitter spirit and the thought and feeling sad, let the life be full of Christmas, and through every day be glad.

JAILS MAN AFTER EATING WITH HIM

How Frank G. Bond, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was arrested at a restaurant in South Main street, Los Angeles, after he had taken dinner in the company of two other men, one of whom was an officer, was related today by Deputy Sheriff J. M. Gunnitt, in whose custody Bond was brought to the county jail.

Bond was arraigned before Justice of the Peace John B. Cox today and his preliminary examination set for January 29, at 2 o'clock, which is the same date that has been fixed for the hearing of Bond's wife, Hester Bond, who is accused jointly with her husband.

The complaint against Mr. and Mrs. Bond was sworn to by Laura B. Resh, owner of an ice plant at Anaheim. The defendants were accused of having obtained $100 under false pretenses. They were said to have prevailed upon Mrs. Resh to advance certain sums of money from the ice plant in question and also a house and lot at Anaheim.

On the day that Mrs. Resh swore to her complaint, here, she was said to have stated at the office of the district attorney that she advanced the defendants certain sums of money on the alleged repayment by them that they were awaiting the settling up of an estate. Mrs. Resh was said to have stated that the defendants told her that as soon as they received the money from this alleged estate they would pay her what she asked for her Anaheim property.

Following her arraignment in justice court here, Mrs. Bond's bail was fixed at $500, which was furnished. Search for Bond was instituted at the time that Mrs. Resh swore to her complaint against him and his wife. It was not until yesterday that local officers succeeded in getting trace of him. Ranson informed West of the commission's plan to pave only about a mile and a half of the highway at a time, and to work only on one side of the road at a time.

Co-operation on the part of the motoring public was imperative, Ranson said. Attorney West stated he would vigorously prosecute any person arrested for failure to heed signs and for failure to keep off of "green" or newly laid, concrete paving.

JAPAN CHANGING MILITARISM TO PEACE WORK

The industrial development of Japan already has changed the minds of the young Japanese from militarism to peaceful work, declared Rev. Danjo Ebina, Japanese pastor, in an address last night at the Congregational church. There was a good attendance of Japanese and Americans.

Rev. Ebina is one of the leading Christian pastors of Japan. He was introduced last night by Rev. Perry Schrock, pastor of the Congregational church. In view of the fact that the Japanese question is a very live topic at this time, extracts from his remarks are reproduced to give the public the viewpoint of the little brown men as represented by the pastor. Excerpts from his address follow:

"Is Japan no more and no less than a military nation? An acute observer will see a democratic, international Japan in the heart of bureaucratic military Japan. It has ever since the revolution of 1867 been growing within all departments of national life. Now it has become so prominent that it will outgrow military bureaucratic Japan, if any external, proper remedy be applied.

"In the time of feudalism there was a soldier class not only to fight, but to rule. The common people were powerless. They absolutely were controlled by the military class. This military, aristocratic Japan was entirely destroyed by the revolution of 1867. An army was organized on the democratic basis. All male Japanese without distinction of classes have become available to enter the new army. By this means the common people were elevated politically and intellectually to the rank of Samurai, the ruling class of the feudal age. By fighting in the civil war of 1877 and the China-Japan and Russia-Japan wars, the common people demonstrated their qualifications for equality with the aristocratic class. It was a great gain for democracy in Japan.

Industry Changes Minds of Youth.
The industrial development of Japan already has changed the minds of the young Japanese from militarism to peaceful work. As the prices of goods become high, the young Japanese give their attention to money-getting. They prefer wealth to fame and comfort to military glory.

"The awakening of laborers is likely very soon to lead them to demand universal suffrage. The Japanese do not now desire to be soldiers. They try to get rid of drafting, if possible. The present universal conscription is a terrible compulsion. They are glad if they can be freed from bearing such a heavy burden.

"The leader of the democratic movement among university students as well as all other young men, is a Christian professor of Tokyo Imperial University, a faithful member of Hongo Congregational church and the director of the students Y. M. C. A. in the university. He is the professor of politics, the most popular writer and lecturer in Japan. The leader of the universal suffrage movement also is a Christian, a member of the house of commons and a graduate of Tokyo Imperial University. The leader of the labor movement also is a Christian and a graduate of the same university. All these movements are harbingers of a new, democratic, international Japan.

"Christian democracy and internationalism are spiritual and therefore more fundamental and penetrating than anything else. They already are deeply rooted in the soul of Japan. This Christian spirit is struggling and travelling in agony in the depth of every Christian soul for the manifestation of the Kingdom of God on earth. It cannot be satisfied with nationalism and militarism; rather it endeavors to break the hardshell of nationalism and militarism.

Million Japanese Christians
"There are a million Japanese who appreciate the Christian spirit and imbibe the Christian ideals. They are friends of Christianity. Even evangelist work in Formosa, Manchuria and Korea is greatly helped by them. Japan is not yet a Christian nation, but there are many who are glad to see the realization of Christian ideals in Japan.

"America knocked at the long-closed door of Japan by sending her military atti-

Comodore Perry. Having been led by America, Japan entered the world of armed nations. In order to be an honorable member of this family, Japan was obliged to organize an army and build a strong navy. In consequence, the militarization of Japan is an accomplished fact.

"Succeeding Commodore Perry, America sent messengers of peace to Japan. They sowed the seed of Christian democracy and internationalism. Ever since then democratic, international Japan has been forming in the heart of military Japan.

"America should take the responsibility of leadership in the League of Nations, which makes militarism unnecessary. The magnificent demonstration of America's military prowess and naval power during the war was duly appreciated by Japan. It is no longer necessary.

"If America should make a similar demonstration in Asia, Japan would not soften her military attitude. The militarists of Japan would attempt to utilize the democratic movement for universal militarism and try to make the whole population of 56,000,000 people one compact army, to meet an American invasion. They know how to use the Chinese militarism on their side. They would stir up racial hatred against America. If America should stir up South China, China would be divided, America on one side and Japan on the other. Then America would have to bear the terrible responsibility of such a calamity.

"My sincere prayer is that America may be the means of producing a new, democratic, international Japan by peaceful means, by noble and sublime enterprises, by taking the responsibility of the leadership in the League of Nations for the welfare of the whole of humanity that requires broader sentiment, nobler aspirations, stronger faith and clearer consciousness of the indwelling spirit of God in human nature.

WHISKEY FLOOD POURS ACROSS BORDER FROM U. S., CLAIM

Internal Revenue Agent Says Dealers Are Trying to Unload Stock

Vast amounts of whiskey are being exported by American distillers and dealers to Mexico by American distillers and dealers in a rush to "cover" themselves prior to Jan. 16 constitutional prohibition goes into effect, according to a statement today by W. A. Cornelius, United States internal revenue agent, with headquarters in San Francisco.

While Cornelius is no longer investigating alleged frauds in connection with liquor traffic still he is more or less in close touch with the situation.

His present district covers California, Nevada and Hawaii.

The whiskey that is being sent into Mexico is sold there at from 75 cents to $1 a quart, Cornelius said. The liquor is being purchased by the wealthier Mexicans, and by Americans living across the border, he stated.

"Many of the purchases by Americans in Mexico are made with the view to re-shipping the stuff back into the United States," Cornelius declared. "Many of the buyers in Mexico are hopeful that the sale of whiskey will again be permitted in the United States at some future date and these are taking a 'long shot' in stocking up across the border."

Try to Prevent Loss

The principal reason for the present rush of whiskey exportation from this country is due, Cornelius said, to the efforts of distillers and dealers to protect themselves from large financial losses which will accrue to those having stocks on hand when national prohibition goes into effect, with its consequent ban on exports.

It is presumed that a considerable share of the present exporting is being done by those banking institutions which loaned money to dealers on the strength of government warehouse certificates. Formerly these warehouse certificates were good as security, but the advent of prohibition, precluding the sale of whiskey in this country, rendered them practically valueless, excepting in those instances where exporting is resorted to in order to recoup.

With reference to smuggling of contraband into this country across the Mexican border, Cornelius stated that the airplane problem undoubtedly would grow more serious as time went on. The smuggler by air presents special difficulties to the revenue officers, because of the comparative ease with which he can evade capture.

Here's One Thing That High Cost Of Giving Didn't Hit

"EVERYTHING'S higher this Christmas," said a distressed shopper.

Not so! Not so!

It costs less to send Christmas cards and Christmas letters this year than it did a year ago.

Yesterday in letters and cards alone Santa Anans saved $235.

Yesterday 21,500 envelopes and postcards passed through the stamp cancellation machine at the Santa Ana post office, and stamps on 2,000 long envelopes were cancelled by hand.

That makes 23,500 letters and postcards that cost for posting one cent less than the same number would have cost for posting a year ago.

It was a record day for the number of letters and postcards mailed here. One clerk was busy all day doing nothing but "fracturing" the receipts and separating letters from post-cards.

S. A. 'GOB' TELLS OF WORK IN SWEEPING NORTH SEA MINES

Giving an insight into the vast labors that still need to be performed in clearing the North Sea of mines, G. E. Culver, quartermaster, first class, was at his home today at 1033 West Third street, after having completed four years' service in the navy.

In May of this year Culver was stationed in the North Sea. He remained there, constantly engaged in the hazardous work of mine-sweeping, until early in August.

"When we left," said Culver, "the British said they were going ahead with the work in the spring. This shows what a great amount of work still remains to be done. The British mine barrier, extending from the west coast of Europe proper up to the Orkney isles, proved its worth many times over during the war. Official reports credit the mines with destroying 17 submarines.

"Along the coast of England, particularly in Dover straits, the seas were virtually a honeycomb of mines, with only a few openings here and there to permit ships in and out of harbor. The success of the blockade was due in a large measure to the efficacy of the mines."

Culver has not announced his future plans. His present visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Culver, in his first since he enlisted, except that in 1916 he was in Santa Ana for a visit of about eight hours.

BONDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL FAVORE BY DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER

The need of more room at the high school is recognized by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and the directors of that organization today are on record in approval of the bonds to be voted on January 13 for giving the needed increased facilities.

Santa Ana is growing—and very rapidly. Of this there is no one who is in doubt. The bond issue is for $110,000. More buildings are needed—they must be had without further delay if the city is to keep pace with other Southern California cities in offering educational advantages. The reputation of the school today is the best and this is going to suffer, it is declared, if the voters and taxpayers of the city do not step up to the ballot box on the 13th of next month and give their approval to the issue.

The members of the board of directors of the Chamber are Chas. F. Smith, F. L. Andrews, E. E. Vincent, W. B. Tedford, E. E. Vincent, F. E. Farnsworth, John McFadden, Mac O. Robbins and E. V. S. Pomroy, all of whom have attached their signatures to the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the present high school facilities are inadequate to accommodate the number of students attending; and

"Whereas, the unprecedented growth of our population demands more class rooms, better assembly hall accommodations and a gymnasium to better carry out the requirements of the state law in regard to physical education for both boys and girls; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that having made an investigation of the situation and fully realizing the needs as stated, we do hereby pledge our hearty support and co-operation especially by urging upon the voters of the city the necessity of coming out to the polls on January 13th, to carry this bond issue."

OSTEOPATH SAYS SHE IS WITHOUT PROPERTY

MADAME RUZENA SPROTTE WILL SING HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Madame Ruzena Sprotte, the noted Bohemian contralto, will be the drawing feature of the Christmas community gathering at Birch park at six o'clock Christmas eve. The program is given under the auspices of the Santa Ana Musical Association, with the co-operation of the city council.

A big Christmas tree will twinkle its welcome, as grateful people come to sing their praises and give thanks for the many blessings this city has enjoyed through the year. The big decidar will be aglow with electric lights in colors of red and green.

The Elks orchestra will furnish appropriate music and Mayor J. G. Mitchell will give a hearty welcome, while Rev. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. Father Henry Eumelen of St. Joseph's Catholic church will bring greetings. There will be several numbers to be sung in concert.

The program will begin sharply at six o'clock and will not be lengthy so that those who desire may attend the church Christmas trees or other diversions planned for the evening.

C. A. Gustin, president of the Santa Ana Musical Association, says that the program will be over by 7 o'clock, so that those who have engagements for the evening may attend the exercises at the park and keep their engagements, too.

The tremendous success of the community Christmas tree last year and the year before will be equalled if not surpassed this year.

SHOW MANAGER IS PLEASED WITH IT

The fact that the Board of Supervisors of Orange County has appropriated $1,000 for an exhibit at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino has pleased Manager Renfro of the show greatly. The following is taken from the San Bernardino Sun, under the heading "Bright Prospects for Show":

"Orange County board of supervisors has appropriated $1,000 to be used in making a feature display at the Tenth National Orange Show, according to word received yesterday by General Manager Fred M. Renfro. A. S. Bradford of Placentia will be in charge of the designing and erection of the exhibit. He has participated in the Orange Show since its inception and is one of the biggest boosters the institution has in Southern California.

"The Orange County feature last year—a revolving globe with the continents marked off in tangerines—was one of the most unique in the show, but the orange county people propose to outdo this and all other features of the past in their display at the coming exposition.

"The appropriation of $1,000 for a display at the Orange Show is evidence of a most commendable spirit on the part of Orange county people," said Renfro yesterday. "For several years past the Orange County displays have attracted state-wide attention—they have always been novel and up-to-the-minute. Orange county's co-operation is in a large way responsible for the growth and success of the show."

WIDOW OF MURDERED MAN CHARGES THEFT

Dismissal was asked in justice court at Anaheim by Deputy District Attorney A. P. Nelson of the charges against Monica Ramirez, who was accused by Mabella Negrite of stealing $77 from a trunk, and the Ramirez woman was free today. The two women live in the same house at Anaheim. Mrs. Negrite, who is the widow of Porfirio Negrite, who was shot and killed last summer, had claimed that Monica Ramirez, while in possession of Mrs. Negrite's keys, had unlocked the trunk in question and had taken out $77. There was not sufficient evidence to warrant holding the defendant, the court held. The man who murdered Porfirio Negrite is still at large, Attorney Nelson said today.

WILL REDUCE PAPERS AND INCREASE PRICE

The membership is urged to reduce newspaper consumption at least as compared with the consumption for July, August, September and October of this year.

The association further recommends a reduction in the number of editions issued, the size of type, the space of news heads, space for advertising and pyramiding advertising, and an increase in subscription rates with a view to covering the cost of print paper and the expense of delivery.

COAST'S SARDINES TO BECOME FAMOUS

"California sardines are the best in the world," said Carl O. Nielson of Christiania, Norway, one of the greatest sardine experts in the world. He is visiting at Pasadena.

Nielson and his associates, representing both Norwegian and English capital, have backed that conviction by erecting at San Pedro, Los Angeles, the largest sardine canning plant in the world. It has a capacity of 150 tons a day.

Nielson has brought one of his Norwegian associates in the new Pacific Coast industry to Southern California to see the new plant and, incidentally, to enjoy the winter in the Southland.

Nielson and A. F. Kittle of the Nielson & Kittle Canning Company have been in the fish packing business many years. Mr. Nielson being interested in grades of Norwegian, French and Portuguese sardine canning enterprises, while Mr. Kittle was for many years a large American importer of these goods.

A little more than a year ago Mr. Nielson and Mr. Kittle investigated the possibilities of sardines on the California coast and were so favorably impressed that they at once bought a canning plant at San Pedro owned by a Japanese syndicate. In addition to that plant they have now erected the larger sardine packing plant. Their company also packs tuna but the sardines are the principal products.

"Production has been a little slow," said Mr. Nielson, "but we have now made agreements with the fishermen that insure great production. We are using the best standard Norwegian and French and Portuguese methods in the packing of the California sardines and believe that they are to become one of California's famous products, known around the world, like her oranges and other fruits. The California sardines are much larger than the European variety but in my judgment they have more flavor and are a better fish."

Officials Believe Republic Will Swing Trade In Her Direction

PRAGUE, Dec. 23.—If Czecho-Slovakia can obtain credit its future as a republic seems assured. The new republic seems to grow more prosperous as time passes but it is having difficulty in getting raw materials.

With plenty of materials to work on, her officials believe the republic will be able to live well and also will swing trade in her direction and get on a sound basis.

Czecho-Slovakia will have plenty to sell, although some of her greatest products such as coal, iron and steel, wood, sugar, machinery, beer and hops, will not find their chief market in America.

But there is a huge market over here for all these products, and she will have other things to sell America, such as glassware, porcelain, gloves, pencils, hairnets, linens and embroideries and lace.

Czecho-Slovakia is a rich country—rich in minerals and agriculture, rich in skilled workmen, rich in industry, rich in forests. Bohemia is one of the most important manufacturing districts of all Europe.

SETTING OUT ONIONS IN COACHELLA VALLEY

Just at present many farmers in the Coachella Valley are busy setting out onions. Over 3000 acres will be planted. Hundreds of Mexicans and whites are at work in the onion fields. The cost of producing this crop is rated at $2.00 an acre from the seed to the car, but the ranchers will clean up a big sum of money with their crop.

METHODISTS WILL VIEW FOUR SITES FOR BIG ASSEMBLY

Saturday of this week committees of the Methodist Assembly of Southern California are to view sites that have been offered for selection as the location for the great Methodist Assembly to be founded on the Pacific coast.

Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana, said today that so far four sites have been offered, and that all of these sites will be visited and considered next Saturday.

"I am not at liberty to tell what the offers are," said Rev. Oliver today.

It is well known that one of the sites offered is that at Huntington Beach, where for years the Southern California Methodists have been holding summer meetings. Another offered a few weeks ago is that at Naples, between Seal Beach and Long Beach.

R. R. SMITH SELLS BIRCH ST. STORE

R. R. Smith, who has been in the feed and fuel business in Santa Ana for many years, has sold his store at 408 North Birch street to Ray Ford, son of D. E. Ford, agriculturist for the Holly Sugar Co. Smith will continue to be associated with the business.

Smith is one of the best known men of the city. For years the firm was Smiley & Smith. A few years ago Smith became sole proprietor. For years Smith was president of the Santa Ana Board of Education.

A petition from property owners from Grand avenue east to the city limits was presented previously. It is a 100 per cent petition. A petition also was presented for paving Seventeenth from Santiago to Grand avenue, the two petitions taking care of paving on Seventeenth between Santiago and the east city limits and connecting up with the county paving.

SPECIAL NOTICE! LEIPSICS STORE WILL BE OPEN WEDNESDAY NIGHT ONLY!

Leipsics Store this season will depart from the usual custom that has been established in Santa Ana by the business men—the custom of remaining open evenings before Christmas, as it works a hardship on the salesladies.

This year Leipsics will be open for business on Wednesday night until 9 P. M. only, Christmas eve, for the benefit of the friends who have forgotten some gift thing until the last moment. But out of consideration for the salespeople, the store will be open on NO OTHER EVENINGS.

As a special inducement to encourage our customers to shop early Wednesday we will give double S & H Green Trading Stamps till 2:30 p. m.

The management is anxious to have the store service as efficient as possible. It wants every customer to have the most careful attention of the salespeople. The management wants the clerks at Leipsics to be fresh and alert mentally as well as physically. It wants every customer to be given perfect service, and this would not be possible if the salespeople worked into the night instead of getting their usual rest and recreation.

With this in mind, it is requested of the good people who like to trade at Leipsics that they do their shopping as far as possible during the shopping hours. They will find the clerks responsive and accommodating and it will be a merrier Christmas both for the customer and for the salespeople. We are confident that our customers and friends will co-operate with us in this modern plan.

BENJAMIN SOON TO BE NEAR CHAMPION

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Benny Leonard is playing in luck.

The lightweight champion has swept the field clean of all contenders for the title excepting one.

He doesn't have to fight that one for he's a mate of the champion in Billy Gibson's stable.

The boy in question, Joe Benjamin, Pacific coast youngster, is one of the sweetest pieces of fight machinery seen around Gotham in some time.

New York thinks a lot of the boy and his chance for success in the lightweight division.

The Californian has been keeping in print as the winner of every fight that he has been in since coming east. Last week, however, was the first opportunity New Yorkers had to see him in action.

He was booked to fight 8 rounds with Tommy Toubey, a rugged, red-haired battler of Patterson, N. J. Toubey is a hog for punishment and he took a lot of it in the first round. Benjamin floored him for the count of nine. He came to his feet wobbling and went into a clinch. The bell saved him.

He came back like a new man in the second round and fought to a draw. He won the third and the fourth by a wide margin. It appeared as if he felt that he could take all that Benjamin had and he sailed in wide open with wild crashing swings that had Joe baffled. Twice the Californian hit him on the jaw and it didn't bother him a bit.

In the fifth round, however, Benjamin looked like a miniature Leonard. He was a finished fighter and went after Toubey like a panther. He laced him all over the ring, floored him three times and finally had him hanging on the ropes, helpless.

Instead of finishing him, Benjamin took him in his arms and asked the referee to stop the fight. Toubey was dragged to his corner and after he was revived rushed across the ring. Fans thought he was starting some rough work and jumped to their feet but the little Irishman stuck out his gloved hand and said:

"Put 'er there, Joe. You're a good square scrapper and a clean guy. I'm with you."

That's the way 10,000 fans at the ringside thought also.

Benjamin has a long way to go before he reaches the Leonard stage of perfection. But he'll get there. Billy Gibson made Leonard and with Billy and the champion both to "wise him up" Benjamin is one fortunate youngster.

Gibson is playing the game right with the Californian. He's just a kid," Gibson says. "Benny can't be the champion forever and when he's ready to step out, Joe will be ready to step in and be a champion just as good."

Benjamin will have a chance to show himself on December 29 when he is to fight eight rounds in Jersey City, N. J., with Willie Jackson, a rough, lightweight from Philadelphia.

If he can handle Jackson, New Yorkers will be ready to acclaim him as a real comer.

ZOWIE! GRENADES FOR LEGION MEN

With the arrival of Loftus (Big Spud) Morrison in Santa Ana, members of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, today were confident that the ranks of their football squad will be augmented by one of the most expert gridiron men in Southern California, when the referee's whistle blows at the start of the Christmas day game to be played with the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school football squad on the high school field.

A meeting is to be held at the offices of LePage and Lantz in the Spurgeon building tonight for the purpose of arranging signals and discussing preliminary battle plans for the Christmas day contest.

Somewhat facetiously, and quite apparently in a vein of satire, Clyde C. Whitney, secretary of the local post of the American Legion, today announced the following:

"Signals will be given in French. The ball is to be camouflaged. Each Legion player is to carry a hand grenade in his hip pocket for emergency, and barb wire entanglements are to be erected in front of the Legion goal. The Red Cross is to pass out refreshments between attacks. Mayor Mitchell is expected to be there to officiate at the 'zero hour'."

Harper Items

HARPER, Dec. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Dodge on Tuesday were much gratified by a visit from Mrs. John Ray and her daughter, Mrs. Clara Foote and her son Ray Foote, all of Allison, Iowa. Back in 1885 they were intimate friends and neighbors. They are now enjoying California climate in and around Los Angeles. Mrs. Susan Dysart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, came down with them.

Parties who visited Mary E. Spencer at the Long Beach Sanitarium on Monday found her looking and feeling considerably improved, although she is yet unable to talk.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Wilson have arrived home from a six weeks' visit in San Francisco with their daughter and son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Evans from Pendleton, Oregon, are spending the winter months at Harper on the Belmont place. They will return to Oregon in the spring, but will come back in the fall and build on their ten acre lot on Victoria avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Strong have come from Pueblo, Colo., to make their home in Harper.

Mr. and Mrs. Colglazier, from Portland, Oregon, also intend to make their home here.

Strong and Colglazier are farming the old Stowe place on Victoria avenue.

Harvey Clark has bought the Thomas place on Orange avenue, and is now fixing it up to go in the chicken business.

Chas. Augdon will move in the old Brown home on Tustin avenue as soon as Mr. Clark gets moved in his new home.

Willard Mellett has torn down his house and will build a 6 room home. Willard is living with his brother Norris while his house is being built.

Marke Barker who has been confined to his bed for some time is now able to be up and around, but is still very weak.

An army of Fairview farm men turned out Wednesday morning to dig a ditch from the old reservoir to the new one. Those present were Messrs. Velle, Smith, Wilkinson, Salsberry, King, Hall, Holinger, Pratt, W. H. Evans, Ellis (overseer of the Fairview Farms), 3 of Gonzolices, Felles, Volk and Dr. Wherry. The men were served with lunch at 10 and 3 o'clock by some Fairview ladies.

There will be a meeting held at the church very soon to vote on changing the name of Harper.

The special evangelistic meetings conducted by the pastor, L. V. Bostwick are being continued this week with good success.

Rev. and Mrs. L. V. Bostwick and son Morris, were in Whittier last Saturday visiting a couple of aunts who recently arrived from Michigan to spend the winter in California.

JACK SHARKEY BEATS JOHNSON IN 8 ROUNDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Fighting his first bout since his victory over Jimmy Wilde, Jack Sharkey outpointed Patsy Johnson of Newark in an eight-round bout here last night. Three other major bouts appeared on the card. Frank Moran knocked out Sergeant Jack Burke in the first round.

Two great surprises were sprung in the other eight-round bouts. Joe Benjamin, the Pacific coast flash, was outpointed and beaten by Mickey Donley of Newark, and Joe Lynch, late bantam, now a featherweight, was decisively cleaned by Joe Fox, the British champion. Lynch was down when the final gong sounded.

FOURTH STREET PAVING WORK ORDERED

$675 are the following: John Mangold, $200; A. J. Buchheim, $100; A. L. Miller, $25; Dr. Chas. Mueller, $25; Fred Marsile, $50; A. F. Marsile, $25; F. E. Jones, $5; Carl J. Klatt, $100; Alex Campbell, $10; Louis Yung, $10; D. A. Osborne, $50; R. E. Vincent, $50; A. N. Cox, $25.

Parton Street Paving

H. H. Hossler, a property owner on Parton street, appeared before the council to protest the action of the body at its last meeting in suspending paving operations on that street until after the winter rains. It was explained to him that rock and oil improvement is not as good and effective if laid in the winter as when put down in the summer, and he withdrew his protest. He did not understand the situation, and was perfectly satisfied with the explanation.

Similar paving on West Second street is being put down and property owners on that street were present to protest against the work in the block between Olive and Shelton, which was put down during the last rain.

W. A. Obarr and H. Siefert told of the conditions obtaining in the block, where the roadbed was not in the condition it should be in and wanted to know what could be done.

George Wells, of the contracting firm of Wells & Bressler, said that the formation in that block was different from that on any other portion of the street. He said that the contract had not been completed as yet, and that if there were any defects the firm would make them good to the satisfaction of the property owners. Wells asked that criticism be withheld until the contract is completed.

City Engineer Hoy was requested by the council to inspect the paving in the block today to note its condition for comparison when the street is offered for acceptance and the council gave the property owners assurance that the work would not be accepted unless it was all right.

Ask City Jitney Franchise

That at least two men in Santa Ana have been figuring on the institution of an auto stage service over the streets of the city for rendering a local service was disclosed by communication from Wayne Goble and J. C. Best, Best asked for a proposition from the city, stating that he would put two $5000 buses in operation. Goble asked for a 20-year franchise covering certain streets and outlining in brief points that he thought should be incorporated in the franchise. Goble's proposed line covers Fourth street from the eastern city limits to Arnesia street on the west; North Main from the city limits south to Fourth; west on Fourth to Birch, south on Birch to Fairview; North Broadway, from Santa Clara avenue south to Fourth, east on Fourth to Main, south on Main to McFadden.

Both communications were referred to the council as a committee of the whole. The members will meet in the immediate future as a committee and discuss the propositions.

Will Give Privileges

C. H. Chapman stated that E. S. Morrow, district manager for the Pacific Telephone Company, had interviewed him with reference to clearing up a situation existing by operation of the Home Telephone franchise. The city has refused to annul the Home franchise because it carries certain provisions of advantage to the city. Wires for the fire alarm system are permitted on telephone poles of the company, while the Pacific Telephone franchise does not carry this privilege. Morrow had been requested by the San Francisco office to get some action and had been directed to suggest that the city attorney draft a new franchise with the Pacific to cover the features of the Home.

The city attorney does not deem this a proper step, and it was suggested that contract be entered into if it can be done legally. This feature will be looked into, and if a way can be found for cancelling the Home franchise without jeopardizing the rights it gives the city, it will be done. The Home is endeavoring to wind up its business.

Council Notes

CANNOT BRIDGE
GULF DECLARES
MISSIONARY

That the Japanese through their treatment of Koreans have established a gulf that it is humanly impossible to bridge, was declared by Rev. A. G. Welbon of 203 Wright street, Santa Ana, in a paper read last night before the Monday Club, meeting at the home of Fred Raftery.

Rev. Welbon, a Presbyterian missionary in Korea for many years, reviewed the history of wars and controversies between Japan and Korea. He said that annexation was made "under great promises of reform with loud proclamations of pity and sympathy for the poor, mis-governed Koreans."

"It is needless," said he, "to say that the promises were piecemeal and the promised cup of blessing had its bitter dregs."

He said that the attitude of the Japanese was one of superiority. They looked down on everyone and everything Korean. Lordly in their attitude, they expended much money. One banquet of the Japanese governor-general cost $250,000. The money was raised in severe taxation of the Korean. The Japanese became masters, cuffing and beating Koreans frequently.

Great Joy in Korea

Then came President Wilson's message of self-determination and redress for small nations. There was great joy in Korea. Secretly, Koreans organized to proclaim themselves independent. There was no effort to arm themselves, but merely to get together and "shout" their independence.

"This movement," said Rev. Welbon, "was dealt with by the Japanese, both militarist and civilian, in the most cruel, brutal and revolting manner possible. No respect was shown to old or young, motherhood or babyhood, high or low. All the laws of decency and order were violated in an insane desire and cruel zeal to utterly stamp out any desire on the part of the people for independence. Crowds of promiscuous gatherings were fired into, sabored or bayoneted. Men, women and children were trampled on in the streets by cavalry. Many tens of thousands were beaten and jailed. Hundreds were put to death. Whole villages were burned, especially Christian villages. Women and girls were insulted and vilely treated."

The Japanese immediately blamed the American missionaries for the uprising, not being shrewd enough to see that they themselves had caused it by their methods of treating the Koreans.

"This action on the part of the Japanese has irrevocably set the Koreans against the Japanese so that, humanly speaking, it is impossible for Japan ever to get the good will of these people."

New Governor General

Rev. Welbon said that when the news of the things done in Korea reached Japan, an effort was made to conciliate the Koreans. A new governor-general was appointed, but he came with the same attitude of looking down on the Koreans.

To him on September 29 a communication was sent by the Council of the Protestant Evangelical Missions in Korea in which the Japanese were petitioned for the establishment of religious liberty in Korea, for liberties in evangelical, educational and medical work in Korea, as well as for moral reform.

This communication is the latest step taken in affairs in Korea. What the next step will be, cannot be now stated.

Following Rev. Welbon's paper came a discussion in which all of those present took part.

RUSH FOR SEATS
AT NEW YEAR
GRID GAME

PASADENA, Dec. 22.—If doubt existed in the mind of anyone that the sporting world is not deeply interested in the scheduled championship football game here between Harvard and Oregon eleven on New Year's day, it was entirely dispelled by today's developments. Long before dawn throngs of would-be purchasers literally besieged the box office when the first seat sale opened for the big game at Tournament park.

Tournament of Roses officials expressed the belief that every available seat would be sold before the close of the week.

Oregon's athletes, after a quiet Sunday, got down to real work at 10 a. m. today, but the coaches and trainers took no chances with their regular signals and Oregon's style of play.

The public was rigidly excluded from the park, and even newspaper men found themselves on the outside trying to "look in."

Harvard today was speeding westward after a brief stop in Chicago.

A Scot's Predestination
A British army chaplain, meeting a jock who had taken "a drop too much," offered to guide him to barracks. On the way jock became recalcitrant. "Ye ken, chaplain," he said, "Me father is a very religious man, and I'm that way inclined meself. Noo I'd like to ha'e a bit argument wi' ye on predestination."

The padre was much amused. "Haden't you better wait until you are sober, jock?" he replied. "Hoots, mon," said the Scot. "I don't care a damn about predestination when I'm sober."

NOSE IS GIVEN
AN IMPORTANT
WORK TO DO

The most important function of the nose is that of respiration. Man was not intended to breathe through his mouth. The nose is the front door of the lungs. And the air stream does not pursue a straight course, but winds deviously through passages, over projecting shelves, and when it reaches the lungs it has changed considerably.

Atmospheric air is usually too dry. It must be moistened in its passage. Whatever the humidity of the respiration air the nose either adds to or subtracts from it moisture, so as to make it right for the lungs. The mucous membrane of the nose supplies to inspired air about a quart of water a day.

And the temperature must be raised. Cold air is injurious to the lungs. In its passage through the nose the temperature must be raised approximately to that of the blood.

Also the air must be filtered, free from irritating particles of dust and from germs. Very little dirt gets into the lungs of a nose breather; and almost no germs. At the openings, the nostrils, there are hairs to catch the grosser particles of dirt. And farther within the mucous membrane has an outer coat of what is called ciliated epithelium, whose minute cilia wave constantly toward the front door, catching the minutest foreign matter in the air streams and waving it gently but insistently back toward the door through which it entered. Then the mucous membrane itself has what is called an inhibitory action upon inimical germs, rendering them harmless. And so, though innumerable germs get into the nose they do not get very far. They crowd in great numbers in the vestibule. And those that push on any distance are returned, harmless, to the port of entry.

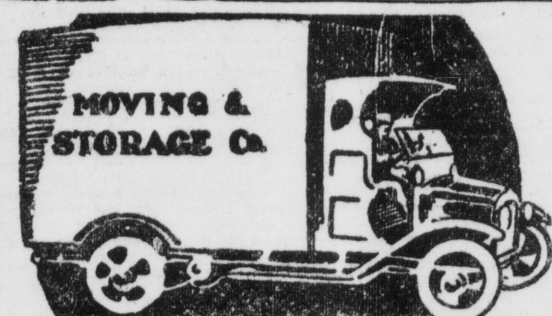

This is why the nose breather has so much better chance, so much greater expectancy of life and happiness, than the mouth breather. One can realize the tremendous task the nose has to perform if one remembers that about twenty-five hundred gallons of air passes through it—or should pass through it—in twenty-four hours. And it has been estimated that at least fourteen thousand organisms enter the front door during an hour's quiet respiration.—Stanley M. Rinehart in Saturday Evening Post.

SCIENTISTS TO HAVE ENLARGED REST TENT
PASADENA, Dec. 23.—Keeping pace with the growth and progress of the Tournament of Roses, as held in Pasadena on New Year's day each year the Christian Science Free Rest Tent is to be enlarged for January 1, 1920. This service has been afforded for several years past. That it fills a need is evidenced by the fact that 2623 visitors at last year's Tournament made use of it. The location of the Free Rest Tent this year will be on East Colorado street near Oakland avenue, one block east of the Hotel Maryland. The tent will be comfortably furnished and afford a quiet resting place for men, women and children. All are welcome to make use of it. For such use, there will be no charge whatever.

ESSEX CAR DEALERS TO GIVE MOVIE SHOW

Wagering one thousand dollars that they could drive their motor car across the Mojave desert and to the bottom of the Devil's Punch Bowl, two young girls recently demonstrated their nerve and ability in such a forceful way that all Southern California has acclaimed them as the champion women motor car drivers of America.

In accomplishing their task and winning the gold, these two young girls dared death in a dozen forms, and the best of it is that you can see their daring record in motion pictures.

Through the enterprise of Townsend & Wyatt, Essex Motor Car dealers in this city, it is now possible for Santa Ana people to see Nell Stigman and Marjorie Cole drive their Essex Arrow motor car in this most daring stunt far out in the sand dunes and rocks of the Mojave Desert. The pictures will be shown at a free exhibition at the salesrooms of Townsend & Wyatt, 321 East 4th street, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week from 7 to 10 p. m.

They want every person in Santa Ana to accept their invitation to see "The Trail of the Arrow" and the two young girls daring death in their thrilling drive.

Dance with us every Saturday evening at Balboa Pavilion. Chap-man orchestra.

MEMORIAL TO HORSE BY DAIRY COMPANY

ROCKFORD, Ill., Dec. 23.—"White clear through," was the caption of a unique "ad" which a Rockford dairy company ran in a local paper, certifying to the record of a horse that had died after being "in the employ" of the concern for twenty years. The unusual memorial was a public tribute to the faithfulness of the equine. The owner claimed that the horse was as familiar with the delivery routes as the drivers and its faithfulness and value to the company was so pronounced that the public tribute was decided upon.
